L. H. RUMSEY'S

THIRD VICTIM

Clara Kruse Tells a Story of Cruel
Betrayal.

SAID HE WAS A DIVORCED MAN

Another Complication in the Mixed
Marital Affairs of the Man Who Has Now Left the City.

Further disclosures of the career of Lewis H. Rumsey furnish ample reason for his sudden disappearance from St. Louis. His intended departure was announced in Wednesday's Post-Dispatch was supposedly caused by the exposure of his complicated marital relations in Bridgeville, N. Y., and in St. Louis. This proves to have been the least of the motives that prompted his resolve.

LEWIS H. RUMSEY.

Besides Mrs. Helen N. Rumsey of New York and Mrs. Julia A. Rumsey of St. Louis there is another who has a moral, if not a legal, claim upon the hero of young Thomas Blake Rumsey's story of his father's alleged duplicity. There is also a little child to bear witness to a third story, in which Lewis H. Rumsey is the chief character. It was undoubtedly the impending exposure of this that caused Rumsey's departure.

Clara Kruse is the third claimant upon Lewis H. Rumsey. She is now sheltered at the Moriah Rescue Home, 219 Nine street. Four years ago she was an innocent girl. She met Rumsey, and she says, her downfall followed. While no ceremony was ever performed, thus insinuating her betrayer from the vengeance of the law, there was a promise of marriage, and Rumsey introduced her as his wife to those of his friends who were unacquainted with Mrs. Rumsey of Dickson street. Meanwhile Clara Kruse was ignorant of Rumsey's marital obligations.

The young woman is a daughter of the late John Kruse, at one time a well-known stockman in St. Louis. Her mother died eight years ago. She was born in St. Louis, and her father's death occurred until a few years ago. Rumsey and she and her sisters were reared well. When she was five the family was broken up.

THOMAS B. RUMSEY.
The Son.

None of the girls had been educated to support themselves, and consequently were thrown helpless upon one world. The family had lived at 128 North Twentieth street, but just before Rumsey appeared in their history, removed to Sixteenth street, between Carr and Middle streets. There Clara met Rumsey and the disintegration of the family that had already commenced became complete.

The unfortunate experiences following Clara's acquaintance with Rumsey were related by the young woman to a Post-Dispatch reporter Thursday morning. Fearful that she would be compelled to testify in court in the divorce suit brought by Mrs. Julia A. Rumsey, and anxious to avoid the pain and exposure of her family, she had hidden herself at the Moriah Home and had assumed the name of Helen Gardner. The better to secure herself against discovery. Even the members of her own family knew only incidentally her whereabouts. She is a woman of small stature, very thin, but comely. Her complexion is very dark, and she has black, curling hair and black eyes. Her appearance is somewhat emaciated, owing to continual ill-health. She is a woman about 25 years of age.

About two years before her father died, said Clara Kruse, "I first met Mr. Rumsey. I was calling at the home of a friend, who was very respectable and whom I will not name. Mr. Rumsey was also a caller there, and was known to her. He was a man of at least, as a man who had been divorced. I was introduced to him, and we soon became good friends. He always assured me that he was divorced, and soon I became thoroughly infatuated with him. My family are Catholics and my father, especially, was very strict. For this reason I never told him about my meeting the attention of a divorced man. Finally, he proposed

WHISKY TRUST LAID OUT COLD.

Judgment of Ouster Sustained by Illinois Supreme Court.

IS A BLOW AT ALL COMBINES.

The Distilling Pool Held to Be a Combination in Restraint of Trade.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—The Supreme Court of Illinois to-day filed its opinion in the case of the People vs. the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Co. The judgment of ouster entered by the lower court is affirmed. The effect of this decision will be to break up the Whisky Trust.

Atty.-Gen. Moloney, speaking of the decision, said: "The Supreme Court practically holds that the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Co. is a trust, and that as such it is in violation of the law. The effect of this decision is to break up the Whisky Trust. The Supreme Court has held that the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Co. is a trust, and that as such it is in violation of the law. The effect of this decision is to break up the Whisky Trust."

In the course of the opinion the court says: "No one who intelligently considers the scheme of this trust, as detailed in the information, can for a moment doubt that it was designed to be and was, in fact, a combination in restraint of trade and that it was organized for the purpose of getting the distillers and dealers in whisky to combine and to be able to dictate the amount of production and the prices at which the same should be sold, and that its effect is to create, or tend to create, a virtual monopoly in the sale of products of that character."

"No rational purpose for such organization can be shown. The only purpose is to allow the business to run in its normal channels, to give competition its legitimate opportunity and to prevent the production and prices to be controlled by the natural influences of supply and demand and the results as shown by the information were such as might be anticipated. The trust obtained possession of nearly all the distilleries and nearly the entire distillery products of the United States, thus enabling it to dictate prices and the amount of production and thus to draw to itself substantially the control of the distillery business of the country."

The court cites a large number of decisions showing combinations of a similar character that have been held illegal in other States, among others the Match Trust. The opinion continues:

"But it is urged that the defendant by its charter is authorized to purchase and sell distillery property, but that there is no limit placed upon the amount of property which it may thus acquire. By its certificate of organization it is authorized to acquire in general distillery business upon the same terms and conditions as are necessary for that purpose. It should be remembered that all the distilleries and distillery property are to be controlled strictly and that what is not clearly given is by implication denied. The charter is authorized to carry on its distillery business and no more."

"It is power to acquire and hold property is limited to that purpose and it has no power by its charter to acquire property for the purpose of getting into the hands and under the control of a few individuals the distilling and distillery business of the country for the purpose of controlling production and prices, or creating a monopoly in that business. Such purposes are foreign to the power granted by the charter. The acquisition of property to such an extent and for such purposes do not fall within the scope of the charter. The purpose of carrying on a general distillery business, in acquiring distillery property in the manner and for the purpose shown in the information, the defendant has not only misused and abused the

WILL HOLD THE PROPERTY.
At Any Cost Receiver McNulta Means to Control the Plants.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Receiver John McNulta was not inclined to discuss the Whisky Trust decision, but asserted his intention to hold the Trust's property at any cost. The opinion had been expressed that in the event of a decision such as was rendered today, the Trust's distilleries would revert to the original owners, some of whom had expressed the intention of selling the plants. McNulta, however, said: "I intend to hold to all that I have in charge as an officer of the court."

Deputy United States Marshals have been on guard at the various distilleries for some time, and sturdy resistance will no doubt be made to any attempt to seize the plants. The representatives of the Reorganization Committee and the receiver declared that any attempt on the part of the former owners of Trust distilleries to repossess themselves of the property would be useless. Despite this, however, some of the distilleries were held at the United States Marshal's office in readiness to prevent any such action. The old Shufeldt distillery was the plant at which trouble first broke out. It was owned by Thomas Lynch, Jr., one of the former owners, was reported to have expressed the determination to regain control of the property.

MOLONEY'S GOOD WORK.
He Has Delivered a Telling Blow at All Trusts.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Attorney Levi Meyer, representing the Reorganization Committee, regarded the decision as a victory. "We have been anxiously awaiting this decision," he said, "and are highly pleased that it has come and come in the way of an affirmation. It removes all obstacles from the way of the reorganization committee and makes a reorganization now a matter of but a few days. Atty.-Gen. Moloney has done excellent work. The effect of the information and took part in the early stages of the argument before Judge Taylor. We saw in the proceeding the only opportunity at the time of getting rid of the Supreme Court decision affirming the power of ouster rendered by Judge Gibbons. The effect of the information was to deprive the committee of the right to continue business. The statute, however, of this State makes the express provision that in a case as this, it provides in language that the corporation shall continue its corporate existence during the term of two years, and during that time it shall have the right to continue business. The Supreme Court decision makes a sale of the property, which is now in the hands of the Federal Court receiver, inevitable. It is the sale for which the reorganization committee has been striving might and main ever since Mr. Greenhut was removed from the receivership. There are considerable obstacles interposed to the sale of the property, for which the petition is and has been ready for several weeks. We know of nothing which more satisfactorily facilitates the purposes of the reorganization committee than the decision just announced by the Supreme Court. This is the greatest triumph thus far of the plan of the committee and is a blow at all trusts."

REV. ANDERSON

EXONERATED.

Pastor and Flock on Trial in Grand Avenue Baptist Church.

TWENTY MEMBERS EXPELLED

Some of the Members Wanted to Get Rid of the Pastor and He Turned the Tables on Them.

The Grand Avenue Baptist Church was literally packed Wednesday night, though only for a few moments, for Rev. Elisha Anderson, the pastor, arose and ordered all but paid-up members to get out.

It was a night of unusual interest to the church members and others. Pastor Anderson, upon whom charges of various kinds have been accumulating for some time, was to be tried. Rev. W. W. Boyd of the Second Baptist Church occupied the pulpit as a judge. Rev. Boyd was also to adjudicate charges preferred against some twenty members by Rev. Anderson.

It was agreed beforehand that neither the pastor nor his enemies should attempt to influence the court. Above all things Rev. Boyd wanted it understood that he was the judge and that he could not be forced to act one way or another. Then he smiled and looked out toward the church-yard gate where two big policemen were eating peanuts.

Two hours later one-half of the congregation arose in a moment and demanded an explanation. With the same smile and a similar nod at the blue-coats, the Rev. Anderson, who had been sitting in the front row, arose and said: "The members accused are guilty and will be expelled after the court adjourns." This announcement brought a mingled chorus of hisses and applause and then the church members who were thus summarily expelled went out on the lawn in front to air their grievances.

At ten o'clock the neighborhood began emptying its inhabitants in the little church-yard.

Living and went out, after which the trial went on.

Dr. Boyd opened the proceedings. "I believe you gentlemen and ladies who complain are in the wrong," he said. "You are trying to run a Baptist church on a Presbyterian plan. This church is purely democratic and our ways must also be democratic. This fighting is too much Presbyterianism. Then again, charges have been filed against Rev. Anderson. In the first place, they were not registered in the right way. Pastor Anderson rules here and you have no right to upset him. Why didn't you complain to me? Why not now let me advise you as to the future? None of us are perfect. Overlook this fault-finding in your pastor. I think he has always acted wisely and, after weighing this case, I believe he is innocent of the charges."

There was a clapping of hands and the exonerated pastor bowed in reply. Dr. Boyd motioned for order.

HONEST MONEY

MEN AT MEMPHIS.

The Gold Combination Makes
Slaves of the People.

SENATOR STEWART'S SPEECH

The Committee on Resolutions Have Not Yet Reported a Platform.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 12.—The second day's session of the great silver convention opened with no sign of diminution in the supply of speeches, and it is doubtful if it will complete its labors before late at night. The attendance of distinguished guests of the conference was set down for speeches to-day, and in addition the most important business of the meeting—the consideration of the report of the Committee on Resolutions—was to be disposed of. With the exception of a number of the silver men decided to begin their work at 10 o'clock this morning. This was rather late for many of the delegates, and a number from neighboring towns in Tennessee and Arkansas, who went home over night, failed to return on time. The attendance, however, was almost up to yesterday's because men who go to make up this body are not as classless as the silver men.

Around the hotel lobbies last night there was much discussion and speculation as to the scope of the resolutions. A platform recommended by the Committee on Resolutions of the stand upon the question of free and unlimited coinage of silver—the main object, or as Senator Harris was particular to put it, the sole object of the convention—there is no trouble. But the effect of the addition of seven Populist members to the ranks of the silver men, and the presence of Joseph Sibley of Pennsylvania, was an uncertain quantity.

The modern silver movement was not a new thing. Dr. Brooks of Memphis opened the convention with prayer, after which the arrival of delegates from the various States was reported. Senator Stewart of Nevada, who addressed the convention.

Chairman Turpin then announced that the Committee on Resolutions had been ready to report, and introduced Senator Wm. M. Stewart of Nevada, who addressed the convention.

THE GOLD COMBINATION.
Senator Stewart's Address Before the Silver Convention.

Senator Stewart spoke as follows:
The object lessons of the last three years show that the American people are face to face with concentrated capital, the enemy which destroys all progress and civilization, which paralyzes industry and compels the producers of wealth to beg for property to continue the struggle against impending famine.

The modern Colossus, the Rothschild combination, is the greatest brokerage establishment the world has ever seen. It deals with corporations and nations, which force from the people their earnings either by monopolizing the means of production, through the sovereign power of taxation. It furnishes money for its customers by selling their bonds to the public or by creating new bonds. The Rothschild combination, which has been in existence for more than a century and the increment retained by the Rothschild family, alone, independent of the Rothschild family, is estimated at two thousand millions. The combination robbed the United States of gold, and the Rothschild family, alone, is estimated at two thousand millions. The combination robbed the United States of gold, and the Rothschild family, alone, is estimated at two thousand millions.

The cause of the excitement was peculiar. It began when two bridal couples arrived at the hotel and made several pins and needles. The third couple came in the wonder gear. At the fourth and fifth arrivals everybody at the hotel was put on pins and needles. As the sixth and seventh came in the air was so full of intensity it could be cut. The Rothschild family, alone, is estimated at two thousand millions. The combination robbed the United States of gold, and the Rothschild family, alone, is estimated at two thousand millions.

The names of the nine newly wedded couples were: Felix Parson and wife, Savannah, Ga.; W. T. Scott and wife, Chicago, Ill.; C. C. Calvert and wife, Shelbyville, Ky.; C. C. Calvert and wife, Shelbyville, Ky.; C. C. Calvert and wife, Shelbyville, Ky.; C. C. Calvert and wife, Shelbyville, Ky.; C. C. Calvert and wife, Shelbyville, Ky.; C. C. ## ALL ARE INVITED.

TESTS OF CATARRH NOW BEING MADE BY DR. COPELAND.
Everybody in St. Louis Welcome to Come and Take Personal Advantage of the Highly Interesting Examinations—A Small Fee Expected of Those Taking Treatment.

Since physicians are now admitting that nearly all common chronic malady—lung and kidney disease, stomach and bowel troubles, throat and bronchial affections, etc.—are but varying forms of catarrhal disorder, people are beginning to feel very animated interest in catarrh. The topic comes home to all like that of grip or cholera in times of epidemic prostration and is a source of dread to the masses. Catarrh is the principle cause of the most frightfully protracted and destructive among all diseases, and the first to develop treatment for its radical mastery, his views are now quite generally accepted by the profession. Many accredited authorities maintain that nine out of every ten persons in our climate have some taint or seed of catarrh.

Everybody wants either to be sure of immunity from disease—germs involving such awful possibilities of evil, or to be receiving corrective treatment. So that the tests now being made at the Copeland Medical Institute, which Dr. Copeland has invited all who feel an interest to attend, are very interesting and of great value to the community, though a small fee is expected of all who take treatment. The fee, however, being limited to the cost of the examination, and the small fee is a trial treatment free to those applying in person.

Many of the questions are given below. To facilitate diagnosis, cut out the list, mark those that apparently apply to you, and bring to Dr. Copeland, or send by mail if out of the city.

DON'T WAIT!

Ships that have been crippled by the tempests of disease, and are now being repaired and strengthened against coming storms and sea-buffets while yet in the quiet of the city.

To wait till they are again rocking in mid-ocean storms is to tempt the fate of the vessel.

Dr. Copeland would kindly warn his invalid that one month's treatment now, will save him from a year's suffering in two months of uphill doctoring against the rigors and blizzards of winter! Begin treatment now!

THE STATE CONVENTION ISSUE.

It is gratifying to observe in Chairman Maffitt an awakening sense of the danger involved in the ignoring of the party's will and the arbitrary denial of its demand by the Democratic State Committee.
Mr. Maffitt now says that he has taken steps to ascertain the will of the Democrats of Missouri with regard to the State Convention, and to give an opportunity to the members of the committee to reverse its action. He has written each member of the committee asking him to sound the Democratic note of his district and notify the chairman if he has found cause to change his mind and desires another meeting of the committee for the purpose of calling a State Convention.
If Mr. Maffitt is sincere in this step and will be governed by the expressed wish of the Democrats of a majority of the counties, and if the members of the committee make an honest canvass and are governed by the results, a State Democratic Convention called by the State Committee is assured.
The committee can now get proof that a majority of the chairmen of the Democratic County Committees want a State Convention. The Sedalia Democrat has polled the chairmen on the question of free silver coinage at a ratio of 10 to 1 and the question of holding a State Convention. Out of 89 replies 82 declare in favor of free silver coinage, only three oppose it and four are non-committal. Fifty-eight, a majority of the 114 counties in the State, want a State Convention. Only twenty-seven declare against it. The Democrat, offers its evidence, to the State Committee.

There is no doubt that the county chairmen represent the will of the Democrats of the counties, but the sentiments of the voters themselves in each county will soon be ascertained through the county conventions now being held.
The State Committee will act wisely, therefore, if it prepare of its own motion to call a State Convention. It cannot evade the issue of defying or executing the expressed will of the party.

CITY SHADE TREES.

Councilman Ives manifested a praiseworthy interest in the good of the city in introducing an ordinance which seeks to compel the planting of shade trees in front of all residence property. St. Louis has too few shade trees, and there are many residence districts where there is hardly a tree to a dozen blocks. There ought to be a good sprinkling of shade trees here and there in the business parts of the city, and there is no excuse for the old Court-house square being destitute of trees.
There is grave doubt, however, of the wisdom of the provision making tree-planting compulsory. There are thousands of people of small means who are buying their houses on the installment plan, and it is as much as they can do to keep up the payments. Many of them have to economize in everything else, including tree-planting work, where the best skill and care are necessary to produce good results. We want more trees, but it will not do to outrage the artistic sense and the love of beauty by putting tree-planting on a level with pavement laying and sewer connection. A tree-planting association to direct and assist in the work would be valuable.

The section of Mr. Ives' proposed ordinance prohibiting the trimming of shade trees by persons not authorized by the Park Commissioners is wise, and might be made further effective by an addition prohibiting the cutting down of shade trees except under certain conditions.
Trees already grown or partially grown are of inestimable value to a city. They are sources of health and gratification not only to their owners, but to all who live near them and pass by them. They are quasi-public property. It takes years to replace them. The cutting of a beautiful tree, unless absolutely necessary, is in the nature of a crime against the community.
We need all the trees we have and as many more as we can get.

THE MONEY QUESTION.

NO. III.—GOLD IS DEAR—WHY?
It is a distortion of facts to say that silver has become too cheap for money, and ought, therefore, to be set aside; that the one dollar silver coin is a dishonest coin because it contains only 50 cents worth of metal; that it is "a 50-cent dollar," the coinage of which would be a gross injustice to creditors.
If this were true, it would exhibit a curious and avaricious world, the like of which has never been before—a precious metal that has served the human race as money for 6,000 years, losing its value for money purposes, since John Sherman of Ohio, still living, was chosen to the United States Senate.
Silver is not cheap, except when measured in gold—a measure which makes cotton cheap, wheat cheap, and nearly all other commodities cheap, except gold. It is gold that is dear—not silver that is cheap. And there are two reasons for the increased and still increasing value of gold.

First, the debarring of silver from coinage, which imposes on one metal the duties formerly performed by two. Gold has become scarce, and the daily becoming scarcer—that is, inadequate to the volume of business it must transact. The result is the fierce and constant scramble for it between the great nations of the earth that causes so much anxiety and distress at times in the debtor countries, ours among them.
A striking exhibition of this was furnished in the last loan of $82,000,000 made by our Government. The loan was made to replenish the $100,000,000 gold fund kept as security for the greenbacks. So great was the demand that as fast as the gold came into the treasury on one side it would be taken out on the other—that the Secretary had to bind the European syndicate that took the bonds to protect the fund from being drawn upon. It would be difficult to present a more signal illustration of the evil policy of the exclusive gold advocates than this ludicrous, laborious device of the Treasury Department to keep its gold from slipping through its fingers.

The second reason for the increasing scarcity of gold is the large consumption of the metal in the industrial arts. In the year 1893 the amount thus consumed was $13,435,901; in 1892, $13,329,074; in 1891, $13,686,918; in 1890, $17,655,960—for the four years over $70,000,000 more than half the product of our mines for the period. In the same four years we lost by exportation $190,000,000 in gold. This sum, added to the $70,000,000 consumed in the arts, makes a total loss of $260,000,000, or $130,000,000 more than the total product of our mines. So that in the four years from 1890 to 1893 inclusive, we used up and lost all the gold product of our mines, and $130,000,000 besides.

It is not most unwise to limit our money system to a single metal, which is being consumed in the industrial arts. In the year 1893 the amount thus consumed was $13,435,901; in 1892, $13,329,074; in 1891, $13,686,918; in 1890, $17,655,960—for the four years over $70,000,000 more than half the product of our mines for the period. In the same four years we lost by exportation $190,000,000 in gold. This sum, added to the $70,000,000 consumed in the arts, makes a total loss of $260,000,000, or $130,000,000 more than the total product of our mines. So that in the four years from 1890 to 1893 inclusive, we used up and lost all the gold product of our mines, and $130,000,000 besides.

A GREAT MASS MEETING.

The opening of the Memphis convention justified its call. The assemblage meets the highest expectations and assures the accomplishment of its prime object. It is a splendid response to the challenge of the Bankers' Convention.
The gathering has been well characterized as a great mass meeting for the free discussion of the money question. Its greatness consists not alone in its size, although in that respect probably the greatest of its kind—but in its representative character and the exceptional aggregate of ability it contains. If does not represent one class, interest or party, but all classes and all parties whose representatives have come together to make common cause of a great principle.
The work of the convention cannot fail to have a most salutary effect. Its discussion and conclusion will both educate and crystallize public sentiment on a question of vital interest. It will strengthen the popular demand for a return to an honest monetary system which will give the people the free use of both gold and silver coin, and will relieve the distress of the oppressed control of special interest and the danger and injustice of corporation credit money based upon cornered gold.

CONVICT LABOR IN ILLINOIS.

The legislative investigation of the convict labor question in Illinois has resulted in two reports from the House Committee.
Gov. Altgeld, who desires a permanent settlement of the question, asked for criticism of the "State account plan" and suggestions of its betterment. The majority report contains nothing but suggestions for temporary expedients, makeshifts, which may allay the trouble but cannot cure it, and will if adopted only postpone the settlement which must come sooner or later.
The chief recommendation in this report is that the convict be employed on a short case across the Chicago divide to connect Chicago with the Mississippi River by a navigable waterway. Aside from the humanitarian objection that such employment would expose the convicts to the public gaze in prison garb there is a hint of politics in the suggestion which should put thinking people on their guard. The work is to be undertaken in the interest of Chicago, and that jobbery and corruption would attend it goes almost without saying. It would not be in the interest of the whole people but only of a few in a particular locality. And it would not relieve free labor of competion because the work is of a character especially adapted to a class which is at the best the principal sufferer from competition.

According to the minority report the State account system has not yet proved a failure, but on the other hand promises under wise direction to reach an approximately successful solution. It is not to be abandoned until something far better than the committee majority's objectionable makeshift is suggested.
The question is not easy of solution. It is complicated in itself, and any plan, however clear, would be objectionable to conflicting special interests which must be reconciled. No solution, however, should be considered which does not have in mind the right of free labor and the best interests of the convicts themselves. They or their families should receive current wages and their labor should be so directed as not to interfere with free industry.

A Kentucky farmer has found that Mr. Hankinson's theory that hydrophobia is a purely imaginative disease will not work. If the farmer himself had been bitten the theory might have made an exception showing, but it seems that the dog bit him and afterwards the bull caught the agriculturist, who, having saved himself by ascending a friendly tree. Hydrophobia theories are perhaps better adapted to cities than to the country.

It is hard to see how the School Board can permit Mr. Bus to hold his place as a member of that body while serving as a Deputy Sheriff. Some time since the Post-Dispatch printed extracts from the city charter which showed conclusively that he could not hold both positions, no matter whether as Deputy Sheriff, he is a State or city officer. If the charter means anything the board should compel him to surrender one of his offices.

With all the Vanderbilts boycotting her, Mrs. Alva Vanderbilt, who used to require that all visitors should send her their names by telephone from the gate of her marble mansion at Newport, will not be entirely happy. The combined Vanderbilts are a great social power, and they can annoy Alva a good deal. What petty lives these multi-millionaire people lead.

Many residents of St. Louis are wondering how a paper superior to five-cent papers can be published for one cent, but many more are simply taking advantage of the fact and providing themselves with the Post-Dispatch. That is why its circulation has grown so rapidly.
There is a suspicion that Debs was out among the birds when he was misled. But a man in Debs' place may not be judged too harshly. If he wanted to take one long, lingering look at a lark before entering upon a tedious imprisonment, his weakness will be overlooked.

If the Prince of Wales loves the Countess of Warwick better than he does his wife, he should repair at once to Chicago a procure a divorce. The more the world hears of Albert Edward's doings the more it approves of his aged mother's determination not to abdicate.

The first Memphis convention dwindle into insignificance before "the largest meeting ever held in this country for the discussion of a single economic question." Let the people continue to assert their rights, and we shall get fair play for the white metal.

Secretary Morton accompanies the President on the Goose Creek fishing outfit. This is doubtless a precaution on Mr. Cleveland's part. The Secretary might get onto the financial problem again if he were left to himself.

Boss Croker thinks it is the pernicious activity of newspapers that prevents harmony. There are many bosses who hold to the same opinion. What a pity there is no press censorship for the benefit of our bosses.

Mr. Olney, who would not enforce a national law, can hardly be expected to insist upon the observance of an international law, except perhaps in a weak belligerent it is to be discouraged.

The perfect working of the great new ship St. Louis is very gratifying to St. Louis people. If there is anything in giving a ship a good name, there is a splendid career for the new steamer.
The Chinese people appear disposed to pull Li Hung Chang out of his restored yellow jacket. Perhaps the best thing Li can do just now is to come to the United States and open a big laundry.

Gov. Stone has reason to be gratified at the general recognition of his appointment of Mr. Meriwether to the Labor Commissioner's office as an example of adherence to the merit system.

Up-to-date readers and up-to-date advertisers all find in the Post-Dispatch the model newspaper, and that is why it is keeping ahead of its esteemed contemporaries.

Spain appears to be making no headway whatever in Cuba. The dead insurgents all appear to have come to life again, and there is trouble all around.

The great pressure of advertising today compels us to disoblige some advertisers to whom we were unable to allot space.

The Tennessee Legislature is also giving evidence of "virility." Passing the lie is preliminary to passing a bill.

It is reported very foggy at Buzzard's Bay. Why doesn't Sterling Morton raise his voice and dissipate those fogs?

With nine-tenths of the buildings in St. Louis of brick or stone, places in the Fire Department are at a premium.

Mr. Corlies will wear a hole in John Sherman's old shoes if he keeps going around so much in Kentucky.

The Attorney General.
From the New York World.
Perhaps it ought not to be expected that any but a corporation lawyer should be made Attorney-General, for the reason that the corporations employ and make corporations lawyers of all the lawyers whose capacity is sufficient for that office. It is none the less a pity if we cannot have at the head of the Law Department a man who has not made his fortune out of monopolies and who has retained something of sympathy with the people.

WELL-KNOWN ST. LOUISANS.

C. Marquard Foster.
C. Marquard Foster is a comparatively young man, having been born in 1867, but he is of a prominence in business circles in St. Louis, the city of his birth, that few men of his age have attained. Mr. Foster, besides being manager of the Hyde Park Brewery, is a director of the St. Louis Brewing Association and Vice-President of the Docks-Hills Manufacturing Co. He is also First Vice-President of the Merchants' Exchange.

MEN OF MARK.

The only word Daudet learned in England was "yes."

Gen. Green Clay Smith, who went from Kentucky to become pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church of Washington City, is making a success as a capitalist.

Having grown tired of organ grinding in the streets of London, that eccentric nobleman, Viscount Hinton, is now acting as a showman to a kinesiographic entertainment.

Of the defenders of Fort Sumter it is said that all but seven are dead. One of the survivors is John Doran of Meriden, Conn., who, when hostilities began, was on a pleasure trip at the fort.

Krupp, the arm manufacturer, pays an income tax of $300,000 a year. But the brewer and alcohol manufacturer, Marinesco Bragard, at Bucharest, leaves him far in the lurch, for he pays 1,631,241 francs a year in taxes.

About 20 years ago William Henry Rinehart, the American sculptor, left a legacy to the Peabody Institute of Baltimore that now amounts to about $100,000. The trustees of the institute have determined to use this fund for the establishment of a school of sculpture in connection with the institute.

WOMEN OF NOTE.

Miss Rose Cleveland, sister of the President is gray-haired and has a pleasant face. She is rather stout, but her taste in dress is excellent and she is invariably attired according to the latest fashions.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell has told a British interviewer that the public does not appreciate the mental and physical wear and tear which an actress undergoes in performing emotional parts. Her own remedy for this exhaustion is to devote herself to the domestic duties of life and of her own household.

Mrs. Olney, wife of the Secretary, does not take a great interest in the woman question, although she has not the slightest objection to other women settling the matter to their own taste. For herself she thinks her home duties are enough to occupy her whole time. Mrs. Olney is a young-looking woman, especially for a grandmother.

Mrs. Amelia Barr, who is probably the most prolific woman writer of the first rank in America at present, lives for the greater part of the year at her beautiful home near Peekskill, N. Y. She has one daughter at home, who relieves her of all household cares. Mrs. Barr is married to Kirk Munroe.

Our Sudden Wealth.

Written for the Post-Dispatch.
When silver was up
And school-boys money flows,
Economy should halt
Ere it turns on the hose.
Who knows but that the board,
In some school basement deep,
Has struck a vein of gold
And stores each day a heap?
Mayhap this noble find
Long ere the lever shall fall,
Will build a thousand schools.
Yes, do the City Hall.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

From the St. Charles Banner.

It is true that the committee was elected to represent the people, but instead of doing that they are grossly misrepresenting their constituents, as there is not a district in the State that is not overwhelmingly in favor of free silver and a State convention. The Ninth District is fortunate enough to have a man in Sam B. Cook who fought for his constituents in the committee meeting and voted for a convention, but other districts have been betrayed.

As the committee as a body has absolutely refused to call a convention in deference to the people's wishes, it is now left with the people themselves to say whether they will submit to such autocracy, or whether they will take the matter up themselves and call a convention over the heads of the committee.

From the Cassville Democrat.
The Democratic State Committee has refused to call a convention to define the party's position on the silver question. Without doubt, a large majority of the Democrats of the State of Missouri are in favor of the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1. Equally without doubt they should be allowed an opportunity to express themselves to that effect. The committee seems to need a vigorous reminder that it is but a mere creature of the party, that its function is but to express the will of the party, and that it may at any time be unceremoniously kicked out of the way to make room for more obedient, less impudent servants. Let the voice of the people be heard.

From the Boonville Democrat.
Mr. Zevely is the representative on the committee of the Democrats of this district, and he is directly responsible to them. They are the constituents from whom he derived all the authority he possesses to sit and speak and vote on the committee, and these constituents he has needlessly, unwisely and with his eyes open misrepresented. He has not spoken as they would have spoken, or acted as they would have acted, had they been personally present to speak and act for themselves.

From the Boonville Advertiser.
The wishes of the Democratic voters of Missouri are not troubling a majority of the members of the State Central Committee. These political automatons, who are supposed to represent the Democratic party in this State, met in St. Louis Saturday and declared in substance that they do not want a State silver convention, and that it doesn't make any difference to them what the people think of it.

What right has the State Committee to dictate to the party in Missouri what it ought to do? It is not the business of this committee to mold Democratic sentiment, but to reflect it. The committee are the servants of their party, and if they do not intend to listen to the voice of the people, and be guided by the dominant opinion of the majority of their constituents, they had better step down and out at once.

From the Hartsville (Mo.) Press.
That free silver meeting is coming anyway, and the Francis machine may as well get off the track and give it the right-of-way.

From the Dade County Advocate.
The State Democratic Central Committee has decided not to call a silver convention for Missouri. All the counties have not yet been heard from on the subject, but when they have been if the Missouri Democracy desires such a convention the State Committee should call it.

From the Madison Weekly Times.
That the Democrats of Missouri have been treated with the utmost contempt by a majority of the present State Committee is acknowledged by all. That the majority of the State Committee intend to disregard the gold standard advocates' refusal to give them the right of free speech and expression through a State convention, is evident from their action last Saturday, and the only thing left for the people to do is to call a meeting, without the consent or approval of the State Committee and teach their servants a lesson.

From the Union Star Comet (DeKalb Co.)
Higg, Robert E. Leavelle of Carrollton, State Central Committeeman from the Second District, believes that the desires of the people should be heeded in the calling of a convention in this State agent the finance question, and as a representative of the people of his district he denounces in unmeasured terms the action taken by the State Central Committee at St. Louis last Saturday. The meritorious part of Mr. Leavelle's action lies in his defiance of Sam Maffitt, and his intrepidity in assailing this wily and influential manipulator is deserving of more than passing notice in these days of time serving and sycophancy.

From the Centralia Courier.
The Courier for once does not propose to be fooled by a lot of railroad attorneys and cuckoos. Its voice is for a State convention independent of Dave Francis' gang of cuckoos.

From the Bismarck.
We do not think the State Democratic Committee has acted fairly with the voters in Missouri. The very fact that its sessions were held behind closed doors casts suspicion on its intention or desire to deal fairly. It looks like they are afraid the people would adopt a platform of principles which the committee would not endorse, but a committee should have nothing to say about what a platform should be. That is not their business.

From the Pulaski County Democrat.
In refusing to call a State convention the Democratic Central Committee is committing a blunder in the party instead, as it claims, of promoting concord.

From the Kasaska Democrat.
The Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, Mr. C. C. Maffitt, urged as a reason for his objection to calling a State convention, the absence of official demand from the various counties of the State. The probabilities are that such official demand will be forthcoming in no uncertain sound.

From the Maries County Gazette.
Does our State committeemen really think that D. R. Francis' views on the financial question coincide with those held by the people of this district? If he does, perhaps he is responsible for his action in voting as he did at the committee meeting last Saturday; if he does not, then he is nothing less than a traitor to the people he purports to represent.

From the Sedalia Democrat.
The committee cannot ignore this evidence of a popular demand for a convention without laying itself open to the suspicion of attempting to play the party boss—a role that cannot be successfully performed in Missouri.

REACHES PORT.

Arrived at Southampton at 5 O'clock Thursday Morning.

Special Cable to The Post-Dispatch.

(Copyright, 1895, by Press Pub. Co.)
SOUTHAMPTON, June 13.—The St. Louis docked at 5 a. m. to-day, after a pleasant and prosperous voyage. The figures of the trip are as follows:
Passed Sandy Hook Wednesday, June 8, 5:47 p. m.
Daily runs to noon of each day:
June 6—Latitude 40.0, longitude 67.0, 814 miles.
June 7—Latitude 41.7, longitude 67.7, 443 miles.
June 8—Latitude 42.2, longitude 68.1, 451 miles.
June 9—Latitude 43.1, longitude 68.6, 441 miles.
June 10—Latitude 47.50, longitude 70.30, 433 miles.
June 11—Latitude 49.20, longitude 71.30, 432 miles.
June 12—Latitude 49.83, longitude 74.0, 418 miles.
Distance remaining to the Needles, 249 miles.
Distance traveled, 5,130 miles.
Time, 7 days 8 hours 35 minutes.
Nothing of an average of about 13.7 knots per hour.

So many of the passengers, and in all probability to the millions who have been anxious for a record-breaking trip by which the transatlantic American ship-building might be duly celebrated and glorified, these figures will prove a disappointment. Yet, when duly considered and weighed, they furnish cause for congratulation and are full of promise for very rapid passages in the near future.

The trial of the engines has developed their possession of remarkable qualities. Since the correspondent never in his experience had handled a vessel whose workings were so perfect on her first voyage. He said he had taken out twenty-two vessels in all on maiden voyages and that it was a new experience to him to have been able to run for seven days and nights without interruption of a single moment. In his opinion, the St. Louis demonstrates that the Atlantic engine builders were masters of their craft.

The passengers, also, were all of a mind on this point. The absence of vibrations in the ship and the absence of noise were facts which appealed most strongly to them. Both vibrations and noise were sine qua non factors in the problem of high horse-power.

The ship was not at all pushed, as the record shows her average speed was about 18.7 knots per hour, and the average speed of her twin screws was eighty a minute. The programme of the entertainment on board included recitations by Mrs. Brew and Roland Buckston. Many ladies appeared in full dress.

Seven pools were sold daily on the vessel's speed. Paul Arthur was the auctioneer and proved very successful and enterprising. He and John Drew were fortunate enough to capture a pool each.

It was remarked how few St. Louisians who aboard, slight certainly not being a good representation. The consideration shown them by the city Chicagoans was as kind as it was unexpected.

Hon. Clayton McMichael, editor of the Philadelphia Record, who was a passenger on board, said:
"The City of Brotherly Love has good reason to be proud of the St. Louis, a ship that does make an effort she will prove a record-breaker. Not only is she a credit to Philadelphia, which she will be, but to the city after which she is named. Every passenger was delighted with the trip, and was almost sorry that it was not longer."

James Campbell, a leading broker of St. Louis, in an interview said:
"Our great city has a right to be proud of the splendid ship. She will certainly be the future queen of the ocean. The fact that Missouri will appreciate this great occasion."

Justin McGrath, a newspaper man, and a native-born St. Louisian, is very proud of the ship.
Mr. Fowne, the representative of the Cramps, says: "I am thoroughly satisfied that the vessel is, in every way as good as any ever built, and I believe she has proved that we have carried out our contract."

Snyder of Cincinnati, says: "I never had a more pleasant time in my life than on this voyage, and I wish the St. Louis were a city instead of the Missouri metropolis."

Ed. Calhoun of Wisconsin: "It was a grand voyage and I wish the boat was named Milwaukee."
John Wells, the chief engineer, said: "I was somewhat nervous leaving New York. You know the machinery of a new vessel is new, and I was a little nervous about it, but there was never a set of engines which, on a first trial, worked so well as these. The machinery of the St. Louis is especially noticeable. The Cramps have solved the problem of combining speed with ease of action and compactness in a power compact. They gave special instructions to go easy and not to crowd matters on the initial trip. I observed some times forced the revolutions of the screw up to eighty-five a minute, though the average was less. On the last day out, I was tempted to become a record-breaker, the engines worked so well, but I did not. We used 70 tons of coal daily. You may say for me that the St. Louis is bound to beat the Paris and the New York, perhaps in August. It may be talked all winter as doing something in the way of speed."

Sir Julian Pauncefote said in the interview:
"My dear boy, I should like to tell you all I know about Berlin Straits and sea fishing, but don't you say I told you until I have communicated with the English Foreign Office."

Asked whether his trip had an important bearing on the question regarding Canada and America or Newfoundland, he said:
"No! All American matters are my business. I don't explore the death of my friend Secretary Gresham."

Henry Abbey said: "Have crossed the ocean many times as any living man, but I never saw such a fine boat. I never was so little troubled with the vibrations. I was much interested in the story regarding Berthoud, Free and Du Maurier. He said: 'I have no special plans for my trip. It is more social than business.'"

Arwell of Chicago, said: "The ship is the perfection of travel. I shall remain in London a week."
Ed. Calhoun of Wisconsin, said: "She is the best ship in the world. The attention to minor details and the cabin table were superb."

Among the second cabin passengers there was much complaint regarding the table. The St. Louis appeared in the harbor the paint on the hull seemed much damaged. Careful inquiry failed to elicit whether she encountered a wreck during the voyage.

The library donated by the City of St. Louis is a good one, but the donors ought to complain at the book binding, loose Wednesday, when the passengers fled into dinner. When the passengers fled into dinner, they found bouquets of carnations and a box of cigars. The donors ought to be commended for their generosity.

Resolutions were then drawn up and signed by all the passengers.

CITY APPOINTMENTS.

Joint Ways and Means Committee Considering the General Bill.
The Joint Ways and Means Committee of the House of Delegates and Council took up the general appropriation bill Wednesday. In many departments no changes were made from last year's appropriations, while small reductions were made in some and increased in others. There were no radical changes.

An important reduction was made in the Commission having charge of the bill for the appropriation of $1,000 with a view to its reduction of a bill making the office a salaried position at $1,800 a year. One year to the Fire Department was allowed $22,000 more than last year because of the addition of three new men. The bill for the Fire Department was $1,000 less than last year, although a bill is now giving the

THE CLIMAX OF BARGAIN-GIVING

In this season's goods has apparently been reached in the remarkable values which our price-autocrat has instructed us to place at your disposal to-morrow and the balance of the week. That this is the time to buy needs no argument. The fact is obvious.

Duck Suits
For $1.75
Not $1.00 Duck Suits for $1.65, but really $3.50 suits for $1.75. There are Duck Suits and Duck Suits all over town, at every conceivable price and trashy quality, but—well—see Barr's.

There's nothing cooler, nothing prettier, than these India, Japanese and China Printed SILKS, on which we are going to drop off just about half the price to-day—tomorrow, too, if they last that long. Our entire stock, not a piece reserved, and all high-grade goods that Barr's are not afraid or ashamed to recommend.

The $50, 75c and 80c grades all go at 25c the yard.
The $1.25, $1.50 and 95c grades, all marked to sell at 80c yard. Don't come too late.

LINEN bargains are never unseasonable. The shrewd housekeeper watches Barr's announcements of price-drops like these:

1 case Bleached Damask Table Linen, all pure linen, at 75c per yard.
100 dozen Petite Doylies, 50c per dozen.

It pays to come down shopping even with the thermometer still climbing beyond mortal ken, when such prices reach the EMBROIDERIES and LACES.

4-inch wide Margin Embroidery, 20c goods, for 10c yard.

These are genuine bargains. You can not afford to miss them.

Think you there'd be always such a crowd at RIBBON space if the values weren't unusual? To-day's special attraction is but an illustration of every-day Ribbon selling at Barr's.

At 14c THE YARD—
A lot of fine Satin and Gros-Grain Ribbons, all pure silk, 3/4 inches and 1 inch wide; also, a lot of Taffeta Glace Ribbons, 2 1/2 inches wide, worth up to 30c yard, the price to-day 14c yard.

Two bargains in MEN'S FURNISHING Department that will make them forget the thermometer, and have the refreshing effect of—well, of various iced beverages.

Men's lace work Balbriggan Shirts, with short sleeves, the coolest shirt on earth, 50c each, or 3 for $1; worth 60c.

The celebrated "J. B." Beckel Summer Corsets, made of fine open net, well boned double steel, with sixteen casings; extraordinarily you'd pay $1.25; this lot 75c; all sizes.

Nobody ever questions the quality of the BLACK GOODS at Barr's. Good, honest blacks, AND NONE OTHER, have been the only kind for sale at Barr's, until it's the most natural thing in the world to go direct to headquarters for them. Summer blacks are just as carefully bought, and we quote a quartet of bargains for the rest of the week.

Best black and white imported French Challies down to 30c.
40-inch Black Broadened All-Wool Moline Cloth, only 40c.
3 cases Black and White Lawns, 10c.

Just consider a minute while you look over the HANDKERCHIEFS. Where, except at Barr's, are you ever offered a chance like this?

At 10c—
We have undoubtedly the best collection of Ladies' Hemstitched and Embroidered Handkerchiefs ever shown by a St. Louis house; new patterns open to-morrow; regular 10c handkerchiefs that you can buy (while they last) at 10c each.

We rise to the situation and drop the prices in DOMESTICS.

Extraordinary Bargains in Boys' Shirt Waists.
Our stock of Boys' "Star" Waists is entirely too large for the space we are able to give it, and goods get overlooked. Here's how we bring them to light and reduce the stock:

$1.00 Waists for 75c. Boys' Imported French Flannel Blouse "Star" Waists, sizes 4 to 12, regular price $1.50, now 75c.

The "woman in white" buys her gowns at Barr's WHITE GOODS Department, and saves money enough to pay the laundry bills thereby. You'll follow her example when you read these quotations.

A grand bargain in linen finish White Duck Suitings, regular 30c quality, this week at 19c.
47 pieces St. Gall Dotted Swiss, the best value in America, at 17c.

More pretty WASH FABRICS lie piled on Barr's counters than you'd think would supply the entire city, and yet we've sold more already than the entire loom output of many factories. ### WARNING TO SMALL BOYS.

Howell Griffith's Experience With a Bunch of Exploding Firecrackers.

In days to come when good people see wicked boys fastening a pyrotechnic exhibition on the southern extremity of a cat going north, they will tell the sad story of little Howell Griffiths, who suffered terrible agony from being involuntarily attached to a bunch of firecrackers while they were going off.

Howell is the 10-year-old son of Police Officer Griffith of 415 Westminster place. He has made himself a timely, up-to-date example for anxious mothers to place before precocious offspring afflicted with too previous patriotism.

Howell is a martyr in a good cause. He is also an opportunist. While painfully conscious of the former role he repudiates the latter and thinks firecracker burns are bad things in season as well as out.

The way Howell came to get into the newspapers is like this: He had an early attack of patriotism and bought a bunch of firecrackers to be the first to light on the block to begin the celebration of the glorious Fourth. Howell's previous matches were not one whit ahead of the crackers, and when he put them in his back pocket and sandwiched in a couple of matches he little dreamed of the surprise in store for him. Howell played ball and warmed himself up, and incidentally the cause of the firing of the crackers was heard from there was a lively commotion in his back pocket. Howell became a human pyrotechnic exhibition. He ran and capered and doubled up like a boy after robbing a green apple orchard, but still the loud reports came from his back pockets accompanied by little fits of flame and blue smoke. It was a lot of fun for the small boy who took it as a good joke until the saw that their companion was pretty badly burned. Dr. Harris dressed the burns on Howell's thigh and pronounced them not dangerous.

But Howell thought last night he was going to die and, calling several of his playmates to his bedside, warned them solemnly not to put their matches and crackers in the same pocket, and never.

GAVE A DEED OF TRUST.

Bisland-Parcells-Jordan Shoe Co. Secured Creditors Against Loss.

The Bisland-Parcells-Jordan Shoe Co. late Wednesday afternoon filed a deed of trust with the Recorder of Deeds to secure an indebtedness of $87,640.07, naming W. J. Hatfield trustee.

The preferred creditors are the Continental National Bank, whose claim is $26,000, and a number of Eastern firms to whom the company is indebted for shoes and leather. The claims of the latter amount to $51,640.07. The local unsecured indebtedness of the company is said to be comparatively light.

Mr. Jordan said Thursday morning that the company would, he believed, continue its business undisturbed. "Our stock," he said, "will inventory from $40,000 to $50,000, and that, taken with our outstanding book accounts, will leave us in a solvent condition if we are not pushed too greatly by our creditors."

President Baker of the Continental National Bank said that the directors of his bank felt such confidence in the integrity of the members of the firm that they were not in the least anxious about the deed of trust. The cause of the filing of the deed of trust is said to be the heavy advance in leather and poor business.

THE PULSE OF THE STATE.

Prominent Democratic Visitors Discuss the Growth of Free Silver Sentiment.

There have been more Democrats from different parts of the State in the city during the past few days than there have been for a long time. This is accounted for partly by the fact that there is a great deal of wheat being bought and sold now, and partly by the interest that is being taken in the coming State Silver Convention.

Casper Ehrhard, one of the best known Democrats of St. Charles County, is an instance of the fact that the silver sentiment in Missouri is doing anything but dying. He was in the Kansas City convention and voted for the minority report, "said Mr. Ehrhard. "You know the minority report was advocated by Gov. Francis and was against free silver. Since then I have been studying the question, and I have come to the conclusion that it is the West against the East, and that the interests of the West demand free silver. Fourteen out of fifteen Democrats believe the same way. The chairman of the County Committee has called a meeting for Saturday, and the committee will call a County Convention, which will, beyond doubt, declare for a State Convention. The secretary of the committee told me before I left home that he had heard from all members of the committee, and they were for a State Convention. Mr. Ehrhard thought that the move for a State Convention had proceeded so far that the plan of holding congressional district conventions was not a good one.

Soil Hugliett, "the call boy" of Montgomery County, is one of the familiar figures in State politics. He never misses a convention. He knows every Democrat in the State, and all the Democrats know him. "Montgomery County has not taken any action on a State Convention yet, but I am certain that the great majority of the Democrats are for free silver and want to express themselves on it. They realize that when there is only one kind of money a few

STARTER FERGUSON RELEASED.

Harlem Cuts Him Loose and He Will Return to San Francisco.

Starter J. B. Ferguson's contract with the Harlem association has been canceled at his request. Ferguson said Tom Williams wanted him at his San Francisco track and he would be regularly engaged each week during the summer instead of semi-monthly, as at Harlem. George Hankins, in view of the uncertainty of future racing, and looking at the matter as a business proposition, released Mr. Ferguson. If the flag falls again at Harlem this year, Starter Caldwell will be the man to drop it.

Attempted an Assault.
Prosser Williams, a laborer of Kansas, out in the county, entered the Thien home on the Lemay Ferry road and attempted to assault Mrs. Thien. The woman's husband, who runs a barber shop at Kansas, pursued the villain with a posse of neighbors and caught him. He was lodged in jail, but denies the offense. Williams is 47 years old and unmarried. He has lived in the county fourteen years.

PYTHIAN MEMORIAL.

Preparing for the Annual Exercises at the Exposition.

The annual memorial service in honor of deceased Knights will be held at Exposition Music Hall Sunday, June 23, by the various local lodges of the Knights of Pythias. The services will be participated in by the thirty-two local lodges, the Fifth Battalion Uniform Rank and the uniform band and subordinate lodges of East St. Louis.

The lodges and uniform ranks will meet at Pythian Hall, Fourth and Locust, at 1:30 p. m., and march to the Exposition. The services will be of a very impressive character. The officers of the Grand Lodge of Missouri have been invited and are expected to be present. The services will be open to the public.

The programme, in addition to sacred selections and prayer, will include a memorial address by Sir Knight R. P. Williams, and an address, "Our Order," by Col. John H. Holmes.

A Great Trunk.
The evolution of trunk-making has reached its height in the latest invention brought into prominence by a large trunk manufacturing concern that has lately moved to St. Louis.

It is the "Peerless" Wall Trunk, which for convenience and comfort is said to be without an equal.

It requires no pushing or pulling, and opens with a touch of the hand—it can be put up against the wall and couples less room than any ordinary trunk. Messrs. Stromberg, Kraus & Co., the sole patentees and manufacturers of this novelty, have opened an immense retail establishment at 514 1/2 and 516 North Sixth street, and besides a full line of "Peerless" Wall Trunks and other goods of their own manufacture, carry a complete line of the highest class of travelers' requisites.
